

Comparing the characteristics of parallelograms with rectangles

List the characteristics that the rectangles and the parallelogram have in common in the bubbles that are in the center of the page.

List the characteristics that are different in the outside bubbles. Align characteristics up across your page.

An example of this would be when comparing a triangle with a quadrilateral, you might list the number of sides of each in the top bubbles on the sides.

